Find employers

Find jobs

Find and apply for jobs with employers that sponsor

You get the perfect job in the United States!
Potential Challenges

Which employers sponsor visas?

- Can’t find employers that sponsor visas in your field
  - Can find employers
    - Can’t find open job postings
    - Job postings want someone with more experience
      - You’re not getting any responses
  - Found and applied for jobs with employers that sponsor
    - You don’t have time or energy to do this amount of research!
Potential Challenges: General Advice

- There is no easy solution—for the job or career path you’d like, you might need to work outside of the US
- Identify what skills you have that would make you the most competitive applicant: buyer/seller model*
- Talk to people
- Set aside time for job search process
- Clarify your career goals and develop a back-up plan

1. Widen your list of employers
2. Consider working in a different area/use wider definition of skills
3. Consider working abroad:
4. Talk to people:
   • LinkedIn / Alumni databases
   • Informational interviews
What is Informational Interviewing?

The process of conducting conversations with people for information and advice.

- A strategy to use when exploring career fields
- An effective way to build a professional network
- A way to evaluate an organization’s overall fit for you
- A way to develop an effective job search strategy
What's The Difference?

Informational Interview
- Conducted to gather information and advice
- YOU ask the questions
- YOU guide conversation
- Focus is on information; not a specific job

Job Interview
- Conducted to evaluate suitability for a job opening
- Employer asks the questions
- Employer guides conversation
- Focus is on a specific job opening and determining fit

To learn more about informational interviewing, look at our CCS Media Library
Informational Interview Process

1. Find someone to speak with

2. Send them an email (or phone call) requesting an informational interview

3. Develop a list of questions for the interview

4. Conduct interview, send thank-you note
Dear Mr. Rinat:

I am a sophomore Cornell University in the College of Arts and Sciences, and I am majoring in anthropology. I saw in your LinkedIn profile that you were also an anthropology major at Cornell and are now working as a social media analyst at Saks Fifth Avenue. Since I am interested in a career involving social media and my anthropology knowledge, I would love to hear more about your current job and how your studies at Cornell prepared you for this career path.

Would it be possible to set up a time for a 20-minute informational interview? If so, I’m available next week, Monday-Friday, between 10 am and 6:30 pm.

Thank you for considering my request.

Regards,
Xinyan Zhou

Potential Challenges

Which employers sponsor visas?

- Can find employers
- Can’t find open job postings
Companies Sponsor but Don’t Have Job Postings

1. Talk to individuals about when jobs might be posted
   • Recruiters on CCNet
   • Human resources representatives at companies
   • Alumni
   • Individuals in the field (LinkedIn)
   • Representatives at Career Fairs or information sessions
   • Career Services staff
Companies Sponsor but Don’t Have Job Postings

1. Talk to individuals about when jobs might be posted

2. Find additional companies
   • Hoovers
Potential Challenges

Which employers sponsor visas?

- Can find employers
- Can find jobs

Job postings want someone with more experience
Companies Can Sponsor But Not For Entry-Level Job Postings

1. Talk to individuals in the field
   • Would you be competitive for higher-level jobs?
   • Could you gain experience (through courses, volunteering, internships) that would improve your chances?
   • Are there training programs?
Companies Can Sponsor But Not For Entry-Level Job Postings

1. Talk to individuals in the field

2. Consider working abroad, moving back to the U.S.
   • Talk to individuals in your home country
   • Do informational interviews with individuals at multinational corporations
Potential Challenges

Which employers sponsor visas?

Can find employers

Can find jobs

Found and applied for jobs with employers that sponsor

You’re not getting any responses
You Found Employers and Job Postings But You Haven’t Heard Anything!

1. Meet with someone in your career office
   • Bring resume, cover letter, job posting, and talk about approaches

2. Do informational interviews, ask for advice

3. Submit application to a real person
Potential Challenges

Which employers sponsor visas?

You don’t have time or energy to do this amount of research!
You Don’t Have Enough Time

1. Decide how much time you realistically have to spend on this and set goals and a timeline

2. Know your OPT timeline

3. Talk to people (sometimes more efficient)

4. Schedule appointments with Career Office, friends, colleagues

5. Attend on-campus career events and workshops
Final Advice

- This is not a straightforward process, so you’ll need to dedicate time to your job search
- Develop a backup plan either abroad / your own country
- Learn more about the job-search process
- Visit your career office—we’re here to help you!
- Talk to the ISSO about visa regulations
Work Authorization
F-1 & J-1 Students

- “Maintaining” Status
- F1 Practical Training
- J-1 Academic Training
- Other Work Visas
“Maintaining Your Status”

- Enroll full time
- Update your address when you move
- Keep your documents valid: extend I-20 or DS-2019!
- Do NOT work off campus without authorization
F1 Off Campus Work Authorization

There are two types of “Practical Training” Work Authorization:

- Curricular Practical Training (CPT)
- Optional Practical Training (OPT)

The training/work must be in your major field of study and NOT your minor.
F-1 Curricular Practical Training (CPT)

- CPT Work Authorization is most often used for internships if you are eligible.

- EASY-application is through ISSO instead of USCIS.

- Can be used for PAID internships, cooperative education job, a practicum, or any other work experience.

If the job is UNPAID you don’t need work authorization!
F-1 Curricular Practical Training (CPT) Eligibility Requirements

http://www.isso.cornell.edu/immigration/f1/curricular.php

- Must be enrolled for at least one full academic year
- Work must be REQUIRED for your degree or
- You must receive credit in a course
F-1 Curricular Practical Training (CPT)

Eligibility Requirements

• Work must be required for the degree (for example, hotel students are required to have 800 hours of work experience)

• Must receive academic credit in a course (such as NMI510; ILR599; Law673 or independent study)

• The work will form an integral part of the research for the graduate student’s thesis or dissertation
F-1 Curricular Practical Training (CPT)

- May only be used before graduation, while still in degree program
- Full-time during the summer or winter break
- Part-time during the academic year (limited to 20 hours total per week, including any on-campus work)
- If they are getting credit for a course, students work full time in summer and take a specific course in the fall
- CPT will NOT affect OPT unless you work cumulatively more than 12 full months of full time CPT
F-1 CPT Application Procedures

• Must have job offer in order to apply

• Go to ISSO web site and download CPT app: www.isso.cornell.edu/immigration/f1/curricular.php Complete application—have academic advisor sign off on it, and bring completed application to the ISSO at least two weeks before you start working

• MUST get work authorization prior to working!! Will require new CPT I-20, passport and I-94 card to complete I-9 Employment Eligibility Form with employer
F-1 CPT Work Authorization

• ISSO Advisor will issue you a new I-20 with work authorization on page 3
F-1 Optional Practical Training (OPT)

If you are not eligible for CPT an alternative would be to apply for “pre-completion” OPT.
F-1 Optional Practical Training (OPT)

• Eligible for OPT after being enrolled full time for one academic year

• Practical training must be in your field/major

• May be used before you graduate or after graduation

• 12 months total per degree level

(After graduation, students in STEM (science, technology, engineering and math) fields may be eligible for additional 17 months)
F-1 Optional Practical Training (OPT)

- Time used before graduation is deducted from the 12 months

- Should have specific dates of employment, as you do not want to request more time than you need for the work
F-1 OPT Application
Procedures: Apply Early

• Pick up application from ISSO or download from our ISSO web site: isso.cornell.edu

• Bring completed application to the ISSO. We will create a new I-20 and you will send your application to USCIS along with fee
F-1 Optional Practical Training (OPT)

- Apply early. It could take 3 months to receive your Employment Authorization Card (EAD/OPT Card)

- You cannot apply more than 120 days before the start date you choose

- Must submit application to USCIS within 30 days of issue date of new I-20 from ISSO
F-1 Optional Practical Training (OPT)

• You cannot begin work until you have the OPT card in hand and have arrived at the start date on the card

• OPT card is required to complete the I-9 Employment Eligibility Verification form with employer
J1 Work Authorization

• “Academic Training”
  – For practical training in your field
  – Either in summer vacation or after graduation

• Download or pick up application at ISSO

• Come to the ISSO with application and job offer letter.
J-1 Academic Training

• ISSO issues you work authorization letter for “Academic Training”

• Total time available is 18 months

• Additional 18 months may be possible for postdoctoral research positions
